

You're delivering Canada's response to COVID-19.

Let us help.

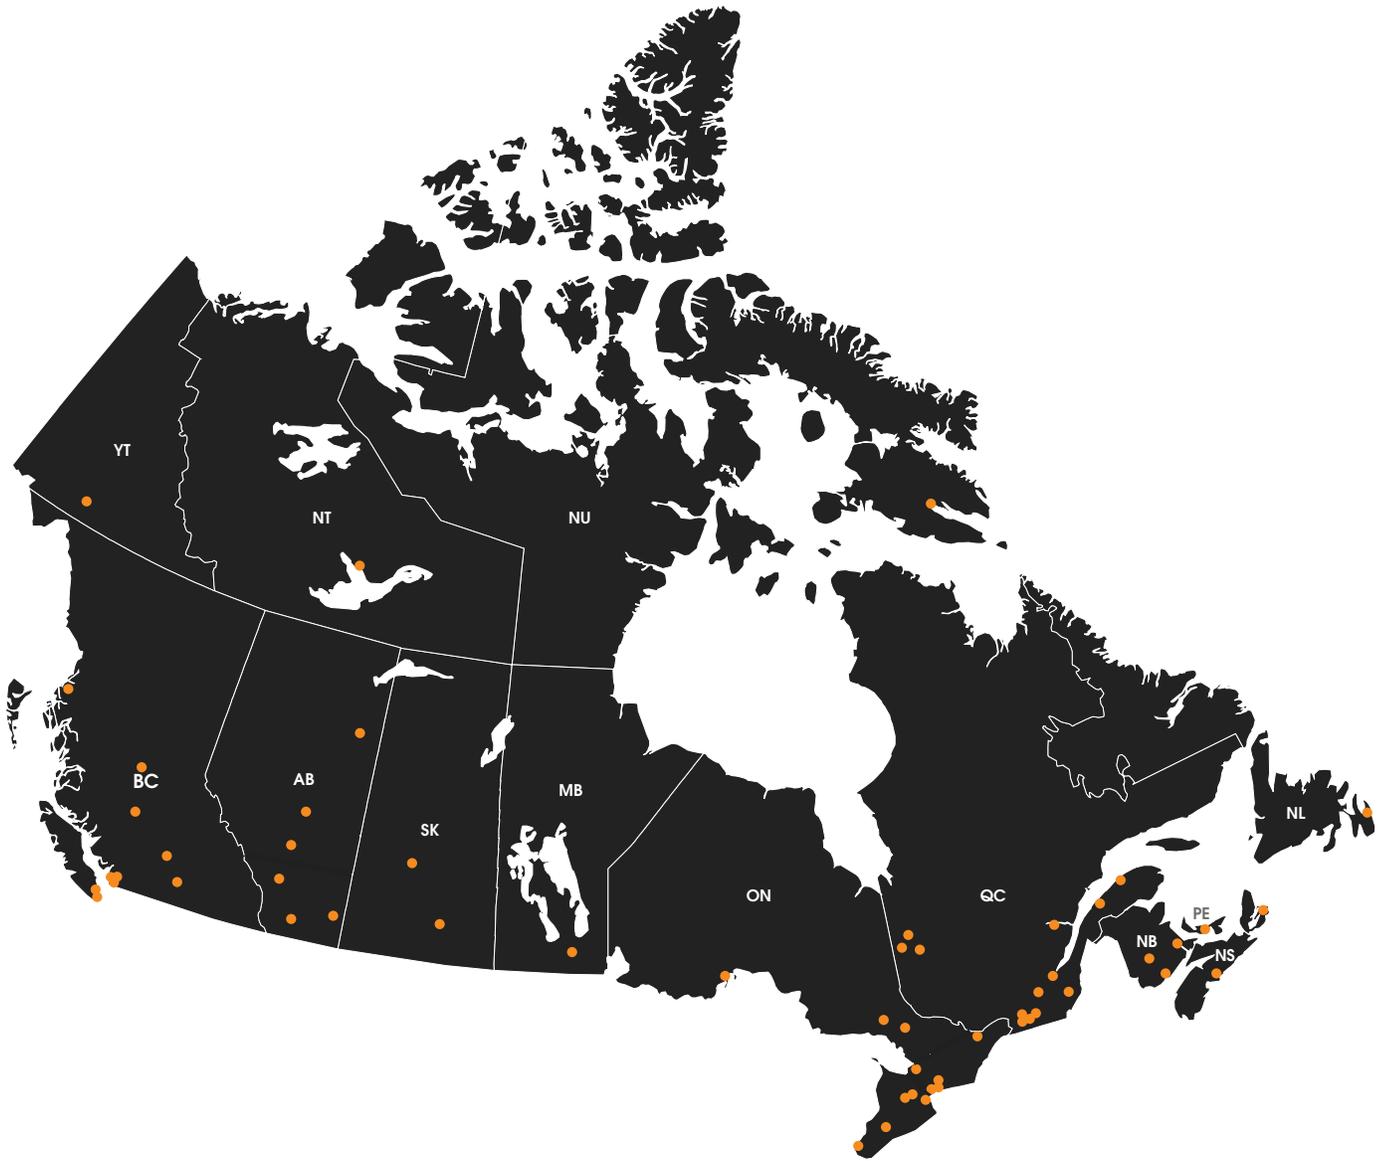

Standing with Canada against COVID-19

As Canadians across our country rally together to limit the spread of COVID-19, we are all focused on minimizing the health, economic, and social impacts of this pandemic, while continuing to deliver critical infrastructure and essential services to Canadians. With the list of actions and requests for support growing daily, we must find ways to be nimble and respond to new, predicted, or unforeseen situations that arise and continue to evolve.

As a truly Canadian firm, Stantec offers over 65 years of rich history supporting our country by creating and shaping communities. The battle against COVID-19 is one we passionately want to help you with, because like you, Canada is our home. One of our core values is “We are better together” and we believe by working closely with our clients, industry partners, and government, we have the best chance of addressing this incredible challenge.

Crisis Response | Funding Applications | Asset Management | Buildings |
Environmental Services | Power | Transportation | Water and Wastewater |
Infrastructure Resilience | Program, Project, and Portfolio Management |
Business and Support Services

WE'RE EQUIPPED TO DELIVER FOR YOU

Stantec has global experts across almost every facet of community design, facilities, and infrastructure and can activate these experts to help address the current and future challenges you're facing with COVID-19.

→ We can provide immediate, essential services from coast to coast

We can help keep Canadians safe

We can build and fortify resilient, safe infrastructure for the future

We can support long-term economic stimulus

7,500 staff

Working virtually across Canada, already providing uninterrupted services including crisis response, facility planning, and infrastructure resiliency